

The do's and don'ts of Whale and Dolphin watching

- Do show up on time and be ready to have fun.
- Do communicate your needs to the crew. If your view is being blocked by standing guests or unhappy with your seat, tell the crew so they can help.
- Do take photos. Just be aware that others want to too and share the view!
- Do return to your original seat. It's ok to get up and move around to watch the whales, but please return to where you were first seated!
- Friendly cetacean behavior (such as bow-riding) should be welcomed but do not feed or call out to the animals.
- Do not drop food or litter, particularly plastic bags. Those are deadly to many forms of marine lives.
- Do wear smaller brimmed hats! Sometimes the big brims may block the visibility of others.
- Don't forget to look for whales! The crew only has 2 sets of eyes, keep a lookout for whales, you may discover something cool!
